Art Unit: 1774

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Jon Ikegami on March 03, 2006.

Claims 3 and 4 have been amended as follows:

1. (Previously Presented) A polymer organic electroluminescence display comprising a substrate, an anode, a polymer organic luminescence layer, and a cathode, where the polymer organic luminescence layer comprises a compound represented by the following Chemical Formula 1:

Chemical Formula 1

wherein R is independently or simultaneously hydrogen, a linear or branched C<sub>1</sub> to C<sub>20</sub> alkyl, or an aromatic group; M is a transition metal; and n is an integer between 6 and 100.

Art Unit: 1774

2. (Previously Presented) A polymer organic electroluminescence display comprising a substrate, an anode, a polymer organic luminescence layer, and a cathode, where the polymer organic luminescence layer comprises a compound represented by the following Chemical

Formula 2:

Chemical Formula 2

wherein R is independently or simultaneously a linear or branched C<sub>1</sub> to C<sub>20</sub> alkyl or an aromatic group; M is a transition metal; m is an integer between 1 and 100; and n is an integer between 6 and 100.

3. (Currently Amended) A polymer organic electroluminescence display comprising a substrate, an anode, a polymer organic luminescence layer, and a cathode, where the polymer organic luminescence layer comprises a compound represented by the following Chemical Formula 3 ~~with an electroconductivity of  $\sigma = 10^{-2}$  S/cm+ after oxidation between an anode and a cathode:~~ wherein  $n$  is an integer between 6 and 100.

4. (Currently Amended) A polymer organic electroluminescence display comprising a substrate, an anode, a polymer organic luminescence layer, and a cathode, where the polymer organic luminescence layer comprises a compound represented by the following Chemical Formula 4 ~~with an electroconductivity of  $\sigma = 10^{-2} \text{ Sem}^{-1}$  after oxidation between an anode and a cathode:~~ wherein  $R$  is independently or simultaneously a linear or branched  $C_1$  to  $C_{20}$  alkyl or an aromatic group, and  $n$  is an integer between 6 and 100.

Chemical Formula 4

5. (Canceled)

6. (Original) A display device comprising the polymer organic electroluminescence display according to any one of Claims 1 to 4.
7. (Original) The display device according to Claim 6, which is a flat panel display (FPD).

Claims 3 and 4 have been amended similar to applicant's amendment to claims 1 and 2 in the amendment filed February 02, 2006. With respect to the electroconductivity limitation which was added to claims 3 and 4 by applicant's amendment filed February 02, 2006, and deleted by this examiner's amendment, it is the examiner's position that the limitation raised issues under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, and also did not clearly patentably distinguish the claimed display over the previously applied prior art. While applicant does not necessarily agree with the examiner's position regarding the electroconductivity limitation, applicant agreed to amend claims 3 and 4 as shown in the examiner's amendment. The examiner notes that the electroconductivity limitation is not necessary to patentably distinguish present claims 3 and 4, which now require the polyferrocene compound of the specified formula to be present in the luminescence layer, over the previously applied prior art.

Art Unit: 1774

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art does not disclose or suggest a polymer organic electroluminescence display of the structure set forth in present claims 1-4 wherein a compound represented by Chemical Formula 1, 2, 3 or 4 is present in a polymer organic luminescence layer.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
